

MY CONTRACT

As I go through the CareerHack Program, I hope to learn more about all technologies necessary to conduct data analytics, understand in detail how I can leverage my new found skills in the professional field (understand and discover career paths after the bootcamp) and also hope to make friends for life.

Some challenges I may face are being supposed to learn an overwhelming amount of content in a very new field I am unfamiliar to in a short period of time and running low on self-esteem during the process.

To deal with these challenges I plan to put my learnings from previous tough phases of my life into action and plan a balanced and energizing day to day while making the Bootcamp my number one priority. Also I want to share my feelings openly and instead of keeping quiet, reinforce my motivation and self-esteem.

During the program, I commit to putting time aside for myself, because I want to achieve my goal of gaining a very valuable skillset and knowledge for my future career and exploring the variety of career paths and my personal fit.
